ABOUT

Working with WEB, UI and Graphic Design since 2012. Having served my clients internationally & often being the single direct point of contact for them, I have developed this knack for understanding what clients are exactly looking for when I get the brief. I consider my resourcefulness to be the greatest of my assets.

OBJECTIVE

When developing an idea, I remind myself not to start with compromises. I envision the ideal manifestation of the idea as if I had no limits in resources, materials, or permission. I'm looking for an opportunity where I will be able to make those creative decisions and work with a team to achieve toughest of the design challenges that I have only rarely or never faced before.
